

Dear Forrest Parents and School Community

As we end another week here at Forrest, I just wanted to connect with a few reminders and updates.

November has arrived and I want to stress the importance of dressing for the weather. Aside from Physical Education and Morning, Lunch and Afternoon Recesses, we continue to run a number of activities outdoors and will continue this on into the late fall. At some point we will need to make indoor concessions when the weather becomes too cold. For now, I would like to remind all parents to please ensure that your child is dressed for the weather and keep in mind that students are outside many times throughout the day and will continue to be outside for as long as possible into the fall season.

Thank you to our parents for keeping us informed! If your child is currently staying home, it is important that we consider health and safety first. If you are not enrolled in remote learning as per last weeks survey, your child will be re entered and caught up when they return to school at your discretion. In absenteeism due to illness your child's teacher may contact you with assignments if required. If you are unsure about presentation of illness, it is critical we remain vigilant, cautious, and communicating.

Parent Teacher Interviews for term 1 will be scheduled this week. Parent Teacher request forms for telephone interviews will be sent home Monday November 16 and are to be returned by Thursday November 19.

Have great weekend everyone.

Chad Stiles, Principal Forrest Elementary
